

GEORGIA - TAIWAN CONNECTION

Government and Commerce

The Taipei Economic and Cultural Office (TECO), located in Atlanta, offers commercial, informational and cultural services to the southeastern United States. Elliott Wang has served as Director General of TECO since July 2020.

In October 2011, TECO hosted Taiwan's 100 year birthday celebration in Atlanta. TECO also helped coordinate a Taiwan buyers' mission to Atlanta in 2011, organized by the Agricultural Trade Office at the American Institute in Taiwan. The mission included nine major Taiwanese agricultural companies looking to import a variety of Georgia produce.

Atlanta is home to the Atlanta Taiwanese Chamber of Commerce. Additionally, the Southeast Chapter of the U.S. Pan Asian American Chamber of Commerce is located in Norcross, Georgia.

Four Georgia cities have sister city agreements with Taiwan: Atlanta – Taipei, Brunswick – Ilan, Columbus – Taichung and Macon – Kaohsiung City.

The city of Macon has especially strong ties to Taiwan. The wife and sisters-in-law of Sun Yatsen, the "father" of Taiwan, all attended Wesleyan College in Macon in the early 1900s.

Academics

In the Fall semester of 2024, 333 Taiwanese students will be enrolled in USG schools.

The University System of Georgia (USG) offers at least seven study abroad programs to Taiwan in programs such as athletic training and kinesiology.

The UGA Center for Food Safety collaborates with Taiwan's National Center for Food Safety Education and Research for joint training and research exchanges.

There is an exchange program between Lowndes County Schools of Valdosta, Georgia and Chia-Yi City Schools of Taiwan. This has led to numerous other exchanges with Georgia, showcasing musical talent of Taiwanese students and engineering competitions.

The Georgia Institute of Technology offers a faculty-led study abroad program focused on nontraditional security challenges across three Southeast Asian states including Taiwan.

There are five active Taiwanese Student Associations in Georgia at the Georgia Institute of Technology, Emory University, University of Georgia, and Georgia State University.

Arts, Culture and Tourism

In 2023, 2,300 Taiwanese visitors spent $4.2 million in the state of Georgia.

The Atlanta Symphony Orchestra's Assistant Concertmaster, Jun-Ching Lin, is originally from Taiwan.

In 2016, the professional dance troupe from Taiwan "Modern Arts Dance Theater" performed at Kennesaw State University as part of the annual celebrations of Taiwanese American Heritage Week.

As part of the annual Savannah Music Festival, Taiwan-born pianist Wu Han performed the complete cycle of the Beethoven Piano Trios in 2016.

In 2017, the Atlanta Ballet performance Gennadi's Choice featured the dancer Peng-Yu Chen, a native of Taiwan.

International Trade

EXPORTS: In 2023, Georgia exports to Taiwan totaled 718 million. Taiwan is the 17th largest export market for Georgia.

Top exports from Georgia to Taiwan include poultry, office machinery, turbojets, electronic integrated circuits, and automatic data processing machines.

Georgia Leads the nation in the export of the following goods to Taiwan: poultry, Kaolin clay, and video game machines.

IMPORTS: In 2023, Georgia Imports from Taiwan totaled $2.6 billion. Taiwan ranks 15th among Georgia's importer nations.

Top imports from Taiwan to Georgia include office machinery, prepared unrecorded media, motor vehicle parts, and calculating machines.

Investment

There are at least 14 Georgia companies with operations in Taiwan, including but not limited to:

- American Megatrends
- Crawford & Company
- InComm
- NCR Corporation
- UPS
- UPS Supply Chain Solutions

There are at least 35 Taiwanese facilities operating in Georgia. These Taiwanese-affiliated companies employ 629 Georgians.

A major Taiwanese investment in Georgia is Maxxis, located in Newnan, Georgia. The tire and wheel assembly company has several facilities in the state. Maxxis has been operating in Georgia since 1997.

Transportation

Delta Air Lines provides daily one-stop connecting flights from Atlanta to Taipei via Seattle or Seoul.

There are five international cargo flights per week between Taiwan and Atlanta.

The Georgia Ports Authority (GPA) has an established relationship with Taiwan. The Port of Savannah offers direct weekly container ship service to the ports of Kaohsiung and Taipei.

About GDEcD

The Georgia Department of Economic Development (GDEcD) plans, manages and mobilizes state resources to attract new business investment to Georgia, drive the expansion of existing industry and small business, locate new markets for Georgia products, inspire tourists to visit Georgia and promote the state as a top destination for arts events and film, music and digital entertainment projects. For more information, visit www.georgia.org.

Information valid as of September 2024*

